
FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Seasons Greetings

It is a privilege to communicate with you through this scientific journal of the IAP Infectious Diseases Chapter. After a break of over a year we are back with the 1st issue of the IAP ID Chapter quarterly scientific journal "Pediatric Infectious Disease" – the PID.

Keeping with the trend, the basic framework has been retained by the team of a very enthusiastic editorial board.

March 24 is the World TB Day and there is a commitment to eliminate TB by 2025. Indian Academy of Pediatrics and RNTCP have rolled out the Guidelines for management of Pediatric TB. The current issue focuses on the issues in pediatric tuberculosis, very much in synchronization with the global efforts to end TB. The invited Editor's write-up on the natural history to review of different forms of pediatric tuberculosis and the available diagnostics are reviewed by the contributors.

The case files section and Journal watch complete the contents of the Journal and will feature in all the issues.

The Editorial Board appeals to all the readers to contribute by sending articles under different sections to the Journal.

I place on records thanks to the contributors, reviewers, the member of the Editorial Board and the Executive Committee of the IAP ID chapter.

Happy reading

Dr Vijay Yewale
